DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claims 6-23 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c) as being in improper form because a multiple dependent claim shall not serve as a basis for any other multiple dependent claim. Here, each of the multiple dependent claims 3-10 and 12-22 serve as a basis for other multiple dependent claims 4-10 and 12-23. Claim 11 is objected to as being dependent on the improper multiple dependent claim 10. Accordingly, the claims 6-23 have not been further treated on the merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by the Ooij article ("silane-based pretreatments of aluminum and its alloys as chromate alternatives").*

aluminum flakes would necessarily be oxidized to form a very thin oxidation coating (5 nm or less).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 2-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the Ooij article as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of the discussion below.

Ooij teaches aluminum flakes of various sizes with a thickness 0.5 mm (i.e. 500 microns). Based on the suggestion of various dimensions, one having skilled in the art would have found it obvious to vary the other dimensions of the aluminum flakes, including the diameter within the claimed range, because Ooij appears to suggest that as long as the thickness is maintained at 500 microns, all aluminum flakes would receive the same corrosion protection after the coating treatment. In addition, Applicant has not stated whether the specific diameter and aspect ratio as claimed are for any particular purpose or solve any particular problem.
